Dear colleague! This is Sophie Mangal. Several days ago I stumbled upon a strange advertisement on recruiting volunteers for shooting a documentary film in Al-Hasakah province.

This publication made me suspicious, and we decided to go deeper to get to the bottom of this case. So, what we have found out was quite shocking!!! A Western NGO prepares another chemical weapons provocation in Syria, and here are the proves. Here is the full text of the investigation.

BREAKING: Syrian Opposition and Western NGOs Hire Actors for Chemical Weapons Provocation

It's not the first time we hear about the upcoming provocation in Syria. Following the joint US, British and French air strikes on Syria's facilities in April, the locals wait in high anxiety and tension for new staged provocations, fake accusations of the Syrian Arab Army (SAA) and further attacks.

So far, we have only wondered where the White Helmets 'activists' could set up their movie studio. This scenario usually occurs in the areas where various militant groups suffer heavy losses. Currently, for terrorists, things go bad in Daraa and Idlib provinces. Fortunately, we do not witness new provocations there yet.

However, monitoring and reading numerous Middle Eastern mass media on Syria we came across an advertisement on recruiting volunteers for shooting a documentary film in Al-Hasakah province. This post was published in The Syrian Observer.
