It's not Russia, it's capitalism, silly

Marx and Lenin never imagined, in their lucid brains, to see capitalism in its upper stage gobbling itself up.

Mercenaries of word, image and sound

Once again war is sold to us like hot cakes, the ignorant brains contemplate its consequences by the means of disinformation. We are sold a war, before we were terrified and deceived with the information of the war and its consequences, but this war and those that will come, will be charged as expensive spectacles, because our brains, loaded with extreme consumerism, demand it.

The war in Ukraine is being instrumented in the rearrangement of big capital in the world (Photo: File)

The arms companies, the advertising media (false information in the world) are making their August, no one takes care of the forms anymore. En masse, the criminals of conscience and ideology who call journalists, communicators, intellectuals, academics, scientists, sports associations, entertainers, show sellers, ministers of any art, defenders of anything that can be taken advantage of, religious, presidents, politicians of any branch of politics, ranging from the extremes of right or left, mostly joined the side that pays the most; because they all know what is happening, they may not know the intrinsics of the business to which they will never be invited, but they do know that there will be many crumbs and none of these miserable mercenaries of word, image and sound want to be left without their share.

The sensitive, flaccid and pusillanimous brains of the everlasting leftists, who all their lives have opposed war, because one day Marx, Lenin and other thinkers opposed it, have never investigated that while it is true that these fighters opposed war, it is no less true that they had a different criterion than to oppose for opposing, because it is already known that in the first war, both Lenin and Rosa Luxemburg, Liebknecht and other fighters seriously opposed the inter-capitalist war, but they did not stop there in the mere statement that could have made them passive accomplices of the massacre, which years later occurred in Europe and other parts of the planet, but they were able to organize the workers' parties as an instrument of combat for those who suffered the ravages of the inter-capitalist war, a task that resulted in the bourgeoisie persecuting and murdering both Rosa Luxemburg and Liebknecht, but which also allowed the Russian people to try the massive experiment of creating another culture. Unfortunately, since it did not happen, everyone condemns it, but no one sensibly tries a study, a deep analysis, of what exactly happened with the Soviet Union, but more could the comfort, the laxity, the lightness of politicians and intellectuals, whether paid, by ideology or ignorance, than to carry out the scientific analysis of the facts.

But the submissive, they oppose from their comfortable positions in front of the computers in their comfortable apartments or offices, because the Russians decided not to let themselves be fucked, but not because the Ukrainians hurt them, or they are outdated by the tragedy of the peoples who suffer capitalism in any of its forms, but because they are paid, either by ideology or by mental laziness or by cultural adocenados, or because they believe that the Russians will put an end to the humanistic, beautiful and well-considered civilization that corporate propaganda shows us, but they do not oppose it because they have a serious position before the facts that capitalism produces every day against life, but because they are conscientiously charging.

To ingratiate themselves with their masters, the miserable conduct of the world's creepers leads them to shout for them to stop the war, but they never said it when the elites of thieves and baited murderers of the United States, the United Kingdom and Europe subjected and subject to genocides, blockades, sanctions, hardships the peoples of Luhansk and Donetsk in the Dobas region, Syria, Sudan, Yemen, Libya, Iraq, Iran, the Sahrawi Republic, Belarus, Venezuela, Cuba, Nicaragua, Russia, to name a few.

A mob of hypocritical leaders and ministers

Apenas tronaron los cañones de la guerra, se puso de manifiesto en la vida real que nada es lo que se ha dicho, que las conductas ideológicas asumidas y cobradas por académicos, profesionales, artistas, intelectuales, deportistas, políticos, cuidagatos y cada una de sus asociaciones, son sólo posiciones en el aire, matizadas por la modosidad hipócrita de las élites asalariadas. Pero cuando se trata de pagar los favores a las mafias, no hay uno sólo que no vaya a besarle el anillo a los padrinos del capital.

Cuando la nación rusa declaró con todo el derecho y la razón que le asiste en el mundo capitalista, que iniciaría una operación militar especial para proteger las vidas de ciudadanos rusos, que han sido asesinados por los intereses del capitalismo asentado en los dominios del atlantismo, ocultos detrás de criminales nazis de nuevo cuño, nacionalistas exacerbados, malandros, mercenarios, reclutados por empresas privadas que tienen sus sedes en Europa o Estados Unidos y acumulan riquezas con la muerte de gente en distintos países del mundo, de inmediato se puso en marcha la gran maquinaria de propaganda e ideología antirrusa, pero lo asombroso es que, como por arte de magia, un enjambre de periodistas, locutores, animadores, mayordomos de la empresa política, comunicadores sociales, ministriles de todo cuño, o mejor dicho, llamémoslos por su nombre, criminales mercenarios, asalariados de las grandes corporaciones capitalistas, que ideologizados o no se prestan para ocultar los crímenes y robos, engañan, manipulan, fabrican la falsa noticia con descaro, son cínicos que van desde los que dicen ¡no a la guerra!, pasando por los que esconden los hechos de un bando, manipulan la información del otro bando, y los que simplemente justifican los genocidios, etnocidios bajo el ropaje de que son seres inferiores o estaban en el lugar equivocado, en el momento equivocado.

Incitadores sistemáticos de disturbios, promoción y hasta participación velada en manifestaciones públicas claramente subversivas, instigadores de actos extremistas violentos, también son una fábrica de información deliberadamente falsa, sobre las acciones de las fuerzas rusas y las repúblicas de Lugansk y Donetsk.

Son grupos o personas organizadas y entrenadas, para desde las empresas de la desinformación masiva en el planeta fabricar falsos positivos, pruebas amañadas, con las que se lucran, sin importar el daño que generan a la vida. Pero más allá del lucro, estas personas también están cargadas de odio, son hostiles y esgrimen razones políticas, raciales, nacionales o religiosas, para justificar su odio y hostilidad contra los pueblos o personas a las que se le ha enseñado a temer.

Estos criminales por conciencia tienen una gran responsabilidad en los distintos crímenes y robos que el capital ha cometido contra los pueblos del mundo, y lo peor es que no les importan que asesinen, torturen o metan presos a los colegas que asumen posiciones distintas, por el contrario, los entregan como los pajuos de la escuela.

Antes de que borren sus declaraciones de no a la guerra y se vuelvan meneando la cola a besarle la mano al nuevo amo que les dará de comer, sepan que no son más que una turba de trepadores y liderzuelos hipócritas, ligados todos al capitalismo decadente; una carreta a toda velocidad ya sin rueda, que se desboca en los precipicios del nunca jamás.

El más grande pozo séptico del planeta

Todas las razones que se esgrimen para justificar la existencia de la guerra son intrínsecas al mismo capitalismo, no tienen que ver con los pueblos, sus religiones, color, género, frontera o lengua, es simplemente un problema económico. Tiene que ver con el reacomodo del capital y de cómo un sector del capital imperial se consume a otro sector en todo el planeta. Las escaramuzas que hoy asolan a los pueblos de Rusia y Ucrania son sólo distracciones para la verdadera guerra que se está desarrollando en todo el planeta, entre las grandes empresas, bancos, corporaciones, sean de información, espectáculo, armas, petróleo, agroindustria, deporte, droga, especulación financiera o lo que sea que genere ganancia.

El intento de rehabilitación o reordenamiento que hoy intenta el humanismo para seguir depredando al planeta en nombre de respetables ideas, se hará a costa de millones de personas asesinadas, destrucción de herramientas, maquinarias, áreas de servicios, energía irrecuperable, y sobre todo se atragantará con los últimos ríos y montañas, convirtiendo al mar en el más grande pozo séptico del planeta, lo que redundaría en miseria y mayor opresión para nosotros los pobres.

En su proceso de reingeniería, el capitalismo va a consumir muchísimo activo natural, y cuando de nuevo entre en crisis y tenga que reinventarse, el ciclo de devastación volverá a repetirse, cada vez con condiciones naturales más miserables. Ya no habrá noche, ni luz, ni narración, ni vida activa para volverla riqueza.

Una sola consecuencia indetenible del capital, porque el reciclaje sólo es un negocio más: en la actualidad, el capitalismo produce al año 278 mil millones de toneladas de basura, sin contar la que se acumula como edificios, fábricas, autopistas en deterioro cotidiano, más todas las construcciones en ruina que produce diariamente, que no se nota como basura, pero que lo será en el tiempo, de manera que si la repartieran equitativamente nos tocaría como personas en el planeta 37 toneladas a cada quien.

Las predicciones dicen que seguirá aumentando porque las ciudades, sobre todo en los países-mina, eufemísticamente llamados en vías de desarrollo o tercermundistas, no detienen su consumo desmedido y el capitalismo no hay manera de detenerlo en la producción de basura.

El humanismo a través de su aparato de producción se ha consumido los activos naturales que en su mayoría vueltos riquezas, destruyen las condiciones de la vida que hacen posible la existencia de la especie que hoy en su mayoría deambula, como zombi, en las grandes y pequeñas ciudades.

It is not true that one day capitalism will function in favor of the enslaved majorities, it is not true that it will solve any problem, it is not true that it will recover; on the contrary, its decrepitude and inefficiency will be accentuated. This is not to say that it will disappear by self-effort; it will continue to twist until it becomes a bazooka, for the simple fact that we will never have a memory of what happens to us, for the finitude of our way of life in time and space.

All this tragedy that capitalism produces to nature in general, but not to the elites who exercise power, is due to the systematization of long centuries of experience that lead the elites, not to change, but to perpetuate power by the permanent way of the accumulation of forces. Sustaining this reason in the possession and organization of weapons as a way of guaranteeing booty as the ultimate goal of humanist culture and its capitalist production apparatus, in order to overcome the great defects suffered by this species such as hunger, fear and ignorance, which even with all the development of this criminal culture has not achieved it.

The true truth is that this has no solution in the philosophical, political, economic, artistic proposals that we know today, everyone who has access to power, neither knows nor intends to know another way of existing, everyone is aligned with the discourses and humanistic actions that govern the planet, and as long as that is so, no one will think of, beyond the pamphlet, the slogan and the cliché, empty shells of religions, reformers and progressives, nobody wants to generate another discourse, another experiment, another doing.

But verdaíta, the only option is in the creation of a thought that does not seek to save the existing, that seeks to overcome the eternal present to which the ancients have condemned us. We have to think about its creation and experimental application and then generate a mode of production that makes possible another custom, a culture in the body that does not suffer from the anguish and anxiety to which humanism and its apparatus of production capitalism permanently subject us, in the name of overcoming the aforementioned defects.

In this war that we repeat is not between Ukraine and Russia but between two factions of capitalism, one of them totally obtuse, terrified and with a lot of power and based on wealth-generating elements that border on fiction, new technologies, shows, etc. The other based on real production, we are talking about generating wealth through the production of real merchandise, footwear, car, clothing, roof, educated labor for it, pretending with this to rehabilitate capitalism and its cultural, political, academic, artistic organizations, in general grouped in the State and give it a much less bureaucratic and more functional role, that is, to get them out of the tobacconist to which capitalism itself took it as its natural becoming.

Now, this crisis is not new, it has already occurred on several occasions, and these generated two great wars in Europe, leading the population of a significant portion of the planet to a great carnage. This allowed them to burn merchandise and fundamentally get rid of a very important portion of labor that they led to die on the battlefields, and above all to rehabilitate capital and move it as an empire to a single center, not as before it was distributed in different powerful territories, especially in Europe.

It should be noted that this war did not overflow, because on the one hand the ethical springs of slave labor had not been destroyed as today, where the majority of the youth on the planet no longer care about work as a way to provide for themselves, but everyone is already excited about the possibility of new technologies and above all that they are aware that working they will not be able to satisfy the immense desire for consumption that capitalism itself installed in their brains, and on the other hand there is no wage that can satisfy their elementary needs, such as eating, fitting, dressing, having a roof even if it is rented, and this happens in Japan, Europe, the United States.

But the most serious thing is still the absence of an ideology that serves as a containment to stop the millions of zombies that will revolt all over the planet, when they realize that they will not even have for the plate of food, and then go out to consume the accumulated wealth, because capitalism has sewn their pockets and is emptying those of the majority.

In the first crises, communism served as a containment of the great tragedy; but as in the fable of the toad and the scorpion, the nature of capitalism led it to sink the sting to communism.

You give me what you have or I invade you

At the global level, all the propaganda apparatuses have moved, be it NGOs, foundations, media, churches, parties to condemn and tear their garments before the position assumed by the Russian Federation to put a stop to speculative capital, which lives on the production and trafficking of drugs, weapons, through its agencies such as the DEA, CIA, FBI, all of them in cahoots with corporations that traffic in humans, weapons, all over the world, whether migrants of any kind, color, prostitution or organ trafficking, but who have their addresses in the big banks of Europe, Japan or the United States, the decadent production of spectacles, financial speculation, the manipulation of privileged information in the stock exchanges and boards of directors linked to finance around the world, the production of false or biased information through its radio, TV, film, print, telephony, Internet and other electronic media corporations, which collude to cayape the peoples of the world and declare war on them, because they refuse to give away their resources to these corporate criminals, and also the sport controlled by their federations and associations, in short, all those criminal associations based in Europe, Japan, the United States, which use political, judicial, police companies, which fulfilling the role of butlers, manage all their misdeeds.

Today all the propaganda and ideological means of the owners of the world are selling us the war as if Russia had invented it. It is not foolhardy to think that this inter-capitalist war will place us in another dilemma never thought of, never imagined.

As soon as the second European war is over, henceforth there are attempts to exterminate the Soviet Union and the cold war is declared, a series of invasions begin in the world: Palestine, the Korean peninsula, Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, several African countries,

Latin America; it happens in Europe, the so-called balkanization in which Yugoslavia is separated into many chaotic pieces, which can be dominated separately; the dollar is imposed on the world as a currency to establish parity, replacing gold in that function.

Once the Soviet Union has been defeated, unipolarity is declared by means of facts. Since then, revolver diplomacy has been directly implanted in the head: you give me what you have or I invade you.

In their lucid brains

The so-called and identified as the Atlanticist bloc, whose owner is the capitals settled in the United States, Europe and Japan, decided that history was over, that the dollar should dominate parities and financial transactions around the world, that henceforth the power concentrated in the territories of the United States would decide what happens and what does not happen in the world, when it already seemed as Hegel said and then Fukuyama pamphleted, that the end of history had come, everyone had to go and kiss the hand of the great imperial godfather settled in America as the only capo of all the capos, capitalism in its highest stage imperialism. But what is happening today, Marx and Lenin could never have imagined, in their lucid brains, to see capitalism in its upper stage gobbling itself up.

Already exhausted resources, both in Europe and in the United States, capital begins to migrate to China and Russia, where there were and are natural resources and labor in need, prepared and disciplined at very low cost, and as they saw that it was good, they gave him the saint and sign and come all to emigrate, not in rafts, rubber casings, but in the highest technologies of the first class of capitalism, which has always known that opportunities are painted bald, and they know it very well.

While in the United States they invest a dollar and get a penny, in Asia they invest a penny and get ten dollars. Everyone was happy, until the capitals that could not emigrate because they could not go to offer production and trafficking of drugs, financial speculation, spectacles, disinformation, production and sale of weapons; because the capitals that emigrated were those that had to do with the principle of capital, to produce goods, merchandise, that generates profits, taxes, and of course extraction of surplus value at very low costs in a controlled market.

Twenty years had not passed when it began to be felt that these emigrated capitals had yielded their fruits, reviving these two great millenary cultures, the Chinese and the Russian, both located in the territories of Eurasia. This has resulted in two powerful fractions of capital, the purely speculative fraction, which understands that the world belongs to them and that this world must obey it, that this world no longer needs nation-states, homelands, or values, even if they are ideological to guide them, that this world must be absolutely individual, that this world must enter into a controlled chaos in order to obtain benefits without having to work, turning the whole world into his particular mine, based on the arrogance that gives the power of arms, disinformation manipulation and financial speculation.

This sector of capital has military bases in almost the entire planet, its means of disinformation are installed all over the world, its goods move all over the world, but these have been reduced to drugs, shows, manipulated information, financial speculation, weapons, mercenary companies and a few cutting-edge technologies, already surpassed by the capitals settled in China and Russia.

A strong and powerful bear roams the mental interstices of the leaders of the United States, Europe, Japan and other creepers on the planet. Fear and hatred grip them and their lapdogs, who work hard to try to sell Russia as the mother of war and Putin as the bad guy in the movie and the Russian people as a blind follower. The only hope, they think they have, is that they can convince the great majority that this terrifying bear will eat us all over the planet, and that for this reason we must support him as our savior, but capitalism in its delirium does not realize that we are zombies and that we give a damn about their fate, which long ago forced us to separate from him.
