Resounding victory of the Historical Pact

We are committed to a change towards peace that destroys violence

He won the Historic Pact, the first triumph of change

The victory of the historic pact that with 8.5 million votes obtained the largest historical vote of an alternative group of power was overwhelming.

More than 20 million people out of about 40 million qualified to vote went to the polls, in the most complex of all the elections of this twenty-first century, in which the democratic center of former President Uribe has continuously occupied the government palace and came to control all public powers by cooptation or decisions with implicit corruption.

and France vice president reached the most prominent electoral peak so far in Colombia, where the elites 200 years ago seized power and already repeated it today, that they are not willing to lose the country. The great defeated was the candidate of the party in power of the bowels of Uribismo and of whom President Duque in practice became his campaign manager, with recent alterations to the constitution modifying the law of guarantees that prevented hiring at election time and putting at the service of the candidate his institutional resources, the deliberative intervention of the commander of the military forces and the action of ministers and heads of portfolio focused against the candidate Petro, besieged by the biased and unethical media matrix. Duque was defeated, Uribe was defeated, the horror techniques of democratic security were defeated.

The unexpected candidate, who emerged and created his space as a candidate without a party, tough, macho, strong was Rodolfo, an engineer, who repeated tirelessly as a campaign slogan to remove the rats from power and end corruption by taking the checkbook from the corrupt. He took second place with 6 million votes and is preparing to complete the missing votes to reach the second round stronger. The so-called center of the candidate Fajardo, again played the politics of confusion, of the hesitant but dangerous center, with a comfort for which they passed the count in votes, again, for the second time, with the same erratic and indecipherable strategy, promoter of a chameleon action with no more sense than to be in force.

The preparation of the second round is coming, and despite the fact that the losing Uribe candidate, in his closing words, publicly offered his support to the candidate Rodolfo, that of the anti-corruption, putting him in trouble and closing that path, because it will no longer be easy for him to receive precisely the votes offered by that corruption that Petro and Rodolfo together ended up defeating. The Uribista strategy and the Duque government, its caucus in Congress and high-ranking officials, is perverse and in direct opportunism, because they put a stick in the wheel to the campaign of Rodolfo, who could not accept it, or justify in any way that to obtain a triumph he will be able to count any vote of the corrupt whom he has just defeated.

In his closing speech Rodolfo said "the country won that can not continue with the same and the same" and "that they believed that they were going to govern internally", these to which he referred are precisely those of the party in power, the uribismo, the government, who were the great defeated, always armored by the clans of corruption and directly responsible for the greatest frauds and crimes against the nation.

The historic pact is left with the option of continuing its unstoppable and determined task of winning electorally in the second round, the defeat of the regime of hatred, which it has already achieved and, consolidate its definitive triumph in the second round. Perhaps he will have to promote one by one each new vote that comes out of a good part of the more than 15 million abstentionists, who on May 29 did not go out to vote and convince various social groups that the country is not governed with slogans, tik-tok phrases, or disqualifications and rudeness. Thousands of peasants and marginalized people were forced to vote for Uribismo, which entered its decline and will now be free to let their conscience speak, to separate themselves from the old colonialists, patriarchs, always clinging to policies of hatred and death. In short, there is a high electorate that has not yet participated, Fico's votes represent defeated corruption that no one can accept and, Rodolfo has serious questions about corruption that confuse him.
