Man arrested for running over Farkhunda with His car

4/22/2015

A man was arrested by the Afghan security forces who was directly involved in the murder of Farkhunda who was falsely accused of burning holy Quran.

The Afghan Intelligence – National Directorate of Security (NDS) said Wednesday that the man was identified as Baryalai who took part in lynching of Farkhunda and run over his over Farkhunda's body.

A statement by NDS said Baryalai was crossing the area when he witnessed Farkhunda being lynched and stepped down to participate in the brutal murder.

The statement further added that Baryalai dragged the dead body of Farkhunda with his car before her body was set on fire on the river side close to Shah Do Shamshera shrine.

Baryalai was arrested 32 days after his name was included in the most wanted list in the murder case, NDS said.

The statement also added that Baryalai was hiding in Guldan village in Kapisa province and was arrested following an operation by the Afghan intelligence operatives who has now been transferred to Kabul city.

Farkhunda was brutally murdered after she spoke out against the superstitious practices she had witnessed with mullahs selling good-luck charms.

Her brutal murder also sparked several unprecedented protests in Kabul and other major cities of Afghanistan.

At least 48 people including the custodian and the servant of the shrine have been arrested by police after investigations revealed the accusations were false and no proof was found to prove the holy Quran was torched.

The Ministry of Hajj and Religious Affairs of Afghanistan closed the shrine following a tragic incident last month.

Thousands of people were visiting Shah Do Shamshera for prayers and the shrine was getting over crowded particularly on Wednesdays.

In the meantime, new details emerged earlier this month regarding the illegitimate activities in Shah Do Shamshera shrine under the shelter of the sacred place where the incident took place.

According to the latest investigation reports, police and members of the commission investigating the murder of Farkhunda, used condoms along with the packs of condoms and sexual enhancement tablets and capsules were discovered from one of the rooms of the shrine.
