Taliban execute three civilians on espionage charges in Helmand

September 2, 2015

Taliban militants executed three civilians in restive Helmand province after accusing them of spying for the government on Tuesday morning.

Shah Mahmood, spokesman for the police headquarters of Helmand province said that Taliban have shot dead three villagers in Mirmandab area of Girishk District.

He said Taliban first shot dead these people and later hanged their bodies.

According the police spokesman, Taliban accused these villagers of providing information to government about the two vehicles which were targeted in an airstrike.

This is not the first time Taliban publicly execute people in Afghanistan. Such incidents have been reported from different parts of the country including Logar province.

A set of photographs emerged online in April purportedly showing the public execution of three men by the Taliban militants in southeastern Ghazni province of Afghanistan.
