Explosion kill Afghan 7 civilians, injures 4 others in Zabul

April 15, 2013

According to reports, at least 7 Afghan civilians were killed and 4 others were injured following a roadside improvised explosive device blast in southern Zabul province of Afghanistan.

The incident took place early Monday morning around 7 am local time in Sori district after a tractor vehicle struck with the roadside bomb.

Afghan interior ministry following a statement strongly condemned the incident and called it an act against the humanity.

No group has so far claimed responsibility behind the incident.

Afghan officials blame Taliban group for such incidents as Taliban fighters frequently use improvised explosive device as the weapon of their choice to target Afghan and coalition security forces which normally leads to civilian casualties.
