Explosion injure school students in Ghazni

May 29, 2013

According to local authorities in eastern Ghazni province of Afghanistan, at least three school students were injured following an explosion.

Provincial governor spokesman Nabi Jan confirming the report said the incident took place around 11am local time in Haidarabad area after a suspected militant detonated explosives near a school.

Mr. Nabi further added two boys and one girl was injured following the explosion and the suspected militant was shot dead by Afghan police forces.

He said another bomb was also planted in the area which was discovered and defused by Afghan police forces.

According to Nabi Jan the school students injured in the blast have been taken to hospital for treatment and are in critical condition.

No group including the Taliban militants has so far claimed responsibility behind the incident.
