Twin explosions kill 6 civilians in southern Afghanistan

June 5, 2013

According to local authorities in southern Helmand province of Afghanistan, at least six civilians were killed following separate explosions in this province on Tuesday.

Provincial governor spokesman Omar Zwak confirming the report said the incident took place in Sangin district.

Mr. Zwak further added at least three women were also among those killed following the explosions.

No group including the Taliban militants has so far claimed responsibility behind the incident.

Local officials blame Taliban group for the explosions as Taliban militants frequently use improvised explosive device as the weapon of their choice to target Afghan and coalition security forces which normally lead to civilian casualties.
