Suicide car bombing leaves 4 dead, 6 injured in Kandahar

September 14, 2013

A suicide bomb attack rocked southern Kandahar province of Afghanistan on Saturday morning.

According to reports, the incident took place near the Kandahar airfield and the main target of the suicide bomber was a convoy of the NATO troops.

In the meantime, provincial governor spokesman Javid Faisal said at least 10 civilians were killed or injured following the suicide attack which took place in Daman district.

Mr. Faisal further added that the suicide bomber detonated explosives packed in a vehicle on Kandahar-Spin Boldak highway, leaving at least four civilians including women and children dead, and six others injured.

Local residents and eye-witnesses in the area said a convoy of the NATO troops was crossing the area when the incident took place.

No group including the Taliban militants has so far claimed responsibility behind the incident.
