3 civilians killed, 11 injured following explosion in Uruzgan

October 11, 2014

At least three civilians were killed following an improvised explosive device (IED) explosion in central Uruzgan province of Afghanistan.

According to local government officials, the incident took place late Friday in Chora district.

Provincial governor spokesman, Dost Mohammad Nayab, said a mini-van vehicle carrying civilians struck with an improvised explosive device (IED).

Nayab further confirmed that three civilians were killed and eleven others were injured following the explosion.

He said the victims of the incident were young boys who were returning from a picnic.

No group including the Taliban militants has so far claimed responsibility behind the incident.

Taliban militants and other insurgent groups use improvised explosive device as the weapon of their choice to target Afghan and coalition security forces which normally leads to civilian casualties.
