Protesters rally at Iran's alleged execution of Afghans

01/30/2011

KABUL - Around a thousand protesters took to the streets of three main Afghanistan cities on Saturday to protest against the alleged execution of Afghan citizens by Iran. The biggest rally was in western Herat, Afghanistan's second city, where about a thousand people marched in the centre of town carrying banners with anti-Iran slogans, an AFP correspondent said.

More than a hundred people gathered in the capital Kabul, while there was also a demonstration in Mazar-e-Sharif, the main city in the country's north. The protesters, chanting death slogans to Iranian president Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, called for an end to the executions of Afghans as well as Iranians by Tehran.

The protesters did not give details on any specific executions they were protesting against. No Iranian sources or officials commented on the execution reports.
